TRAINING FOR LOCKSMITHS

The Master Locksmiths Association offers a very successful “Locksmiths Training Programme”. This commenced in September 1992 and is now recognised throughout the locksmithing industry as a qualification in its own right.

 All courses are held at the MLA's Training Workshops at Woodford Halse near Daventry in Northamptonshire.

 They provide something for everyone - from newcomers and beginners through to locksmiths with some prior knowledge who want to learn new skills, and various methods, or update existing ones.

 A course calendar is enclosed; early booking is recommended.

 Details of some of the course content are enclosed.

 New modules are under consideration and details will be advertised in due course.

You will be required to undergo a Standard DBS check in order to join as a member (or a basic disclosure if only taking some of the training modules) – the application form for the DBS check is enclosed in this pack and the cost of this is £36.00.

 Accommodation is not included in the cost of the training, however details for local hotels and B&Bs can be provided on request. All refreshments during the day are also included in the overall cost.

 An attendance certificate will be provided at the end of each course.

 Training notes are included for most courses.

£ Full payment must be made one month prior to the commencement of all courses

 Places on all courses are strictly limited and bookings, together with appropriate deposits, will be dealt with on a first come, first served basis.

THE PROFESSIONAL LOCKSMITH

Whilst there are no essential academic qualifications required in order to become a professional locksmith, an interest in mechanical and electronic gadgetry, excellent manual dexterity, good communications/public relations, maths and possibly some carpentry skills would be an asset.

The topics listed below are just a few of the skills you will need to learn if you wish to become a professional locksmith, but it must be said that locksmithing is one of the careers in which you can never say that you know it all. New products are constantly being developed, requiring new understanding and techniques on the part of the locksmith - it's a constant challenge! There are also many specialist fields and no one locksmith would be expert in all of them.

One way of gaining entry into the profession is to become an apprentice to a local locksmith, but at the present time, these apprenticeships are few and far between, so you will need to approach local locksmiths to check if any opportunities exist

LOCKSMITHING SKILLS

- ◆ An understanding of the principles and methods of key duplication, physical keycutting by hand, machine and code, procedures relating to security keys, and a knowledge of all principal lock types and systems and their keys. Knowledge of key types with regard to security, ease of duplication and pick resistance.
- ◆ Knowledge of British Standards relating to locks, an understanding of lock terminology and the operation of different lock types. An appreciation of lock fitting requirements and an ability to fit all types of lock. An understanding of electric locks and releases. An understanding of master keying and its implementation.
- ◆ An understanding of common lock malfunctions and their rectification. Skills in lock stripping, servicing, repair and reassembly. An appreciation of locksmithing hand and power tools, their use, care and maintenance. A knowledge of current safety legislation. Experience in the use of materials and appropriate cutting, shaping and joining methods. An ability in lock picking, manipulation and entry procedures with no or minimal damage to property.
- ◆ A knowledge of basic safe types, their construction and lock mechanisms, installation, removal, opening, malfunctions, repair and insurance company requirements.
- ◆ Product knowledge with regard to security devices for doors and windows, a knowledge of what to fit and where for best possible security, an ability to identify locks and padlocks by manufacturers names and codes, a working knowledge of door closers and floor springs, their servicing and repair.

GUIDANCE NOTES

This application is for membership of the British Locksmiths Institute and is not a qualification.

BLI Qualifications are by examination.

When your application has been successfully processed, payment will be required to pay the Annual Subscription

During their course of work, many locksmiths will come into contact with vulnerable persons, people in vulnerable situations, will attend secure sites and private dwellings. It is, therefore, imperative that the MLA can recommend its members with full confidence

Referees must not be related to the applicant unless he/she is a Member of the British Locksmiths Institute.

One referee MUST be a Member of the BLI or a professional person who can supply a personal reference.

You will be advised if further checks are required from any other appropriate sources.

The completion of the form is deemed to be part of the application for membership of the British Locksmiths Institute and must be submitted at the time of application for membership.

Applicants who are granted membership of the Institute are advised that this form will become the property of the Master Locksmiths Association and will form part of the records of the Association.

Applicants to whom membership is refused, for whatever reason, may request this form to be returned to them. Please indicate whether you wish for this form to be returned or destroyed if membership is refused.

If you require assistance or advise on completing any part of this form, please do not hesitate to contact MLA Head Office

Tomorrow's Locksmithing Today

Modern Locksmithing – Mechanical Locksmithing

A significant amount of work has been put in recently in order to modify the MLA's training offering, not only updating it but most importantly making it modular. Having undertaken extensive research the MLA's Board of Directors and Training Committee decided to make the initial training offering (that aimed at new locksmiths or those wanting to enter the industry) modular, and to this end the initial training offering has been changed to consist of:-

- A 2 day Foundation Module
- A 1 day fitting module
- A 1 day UPVC module
- A 1 day "Level 1" opening module

Foundation Module (2 days)

- Types of locks current in use & terminology
- Cylinder Key Identification
- Pin Tumbler Mechanisms
- Cylinder Key Machine Set-up. Maintenance & Safety
- Cylinder Key cutting by machine
- Stripping rim cylinder
- Mortice key blank identification
- Lever mechanisms
- Mortice Key cutting by machine
- Mortice locks
- Lever lock key cutting by hand
- Safes (brief overview)
- Lock Opening Basics (intro to picking, wafer lock and picking open disc tumbler lock)
- Code Key cutting

Fitting Module (1 day)

- Tools for fitting
- Fitting rim nightlatch
- Fitting lever mortice lock
- Upgrading lever mortice to euro cylinder operated mortice
- Fitting secondary security devices

UPVC Module (1 day)

- Multi Point Lock ID (various locking types/mechanisms, backsets, strike plates, profiles and packing etc.)
- Toe & Heeling
- Opening Jammed Mechanisms
- Gearbox Replacement
- Hinges & Handles
- Security upgrades
- Additional security

Opening Module – Level 1 (1 day)

- Tools for opening
- Methods of entry
- Opening authority procedure
- Theory of mortice lock picking
- Picking 2 & 3 lever mortice locks
- Other opening methods for 2/3 lever locks (jigglers, overlift)
- Lock Identification (how to)
- Theory of Mortice Lock Drilling
- ERA 5 lever padlock opening
- Theory and then practical of picking pin tumbler locks
- Theory and then practical of drilling cylinder locks
- Pick Guns
- Other opening Techniques (bumping, snapping, slipping, letterbox tool)

These initial modules are open to non-members however they must take the Foundation module first. MLA Members (and employees of company members) can however pick and choose what they want. Due to the nature of DBS checks only being possible on MLA members, for any non-members wanting to attend these modules then we will need them to provide us with a Basic Disclosure (available from the likes of Disclosure Scotland) which is no older than 3 months.

In addition to this initial training, the MLA are now able to offer some more advanced training modules aimed at either those who have completed their foundation level modules, or for the more experienced locksmith.

There's a choice of 6 modules, depending on the areas of locksmithing you're looking to work in, including:-

- Bench Locksmithing (Half Day)
- Furniture Locks (Half Day)
- Aluminium and Armour Plate Glass Doors (Full Day)
- Modern Mechanical Locksmithing – Opening Module (Level 2) – Lever (Full Day)

Bench Locksmithing (Half Day)

BLI EXAMINATION RESUME

The examination will consist of 4 elements:-

1. WRITTEN PAPER

TIME ALLOWED: ONE HOUR

The written paper will comprise of 50 questions in a combination of short answer and essay style. (Some questions may require a sketch).

The questions will be a broad spectrum of locksmithing, including safes, access control and lever and pin tumbler mechanisms.

This paper only may be taken at a regional meeting, at the discretion of the examination board and by prior arrangement with Headquarters.

PRACTICAL TESTS

2. OPEN A BS 5 LEVER MORTICE LOCK AT A WORK STATION

TIME ALLOWED: ¾ HOUR

The above lock will be one in common use and can be opened by drilling or manipulation. If opened by drilling then 1 hole up to 8mm or (subject to the lock being correctly identified) 2 holes of up to 6mm each are allowed. (Bigger or more holes will result in an automatic fail)

Marks will be awarded for correct identification together with the level of skill demonstrated.

3. FIT A EURO MORTICE DEADLOCK TO A DOOR

TIME ALLOWED: 1½ HOUR

You will be required to fit a Euro Cylinder Operated Deadlock with Security Escutcheons and Box Striker to a door in a workstation at the examination centre.

Assessors will examine this at the conclusion. A high standard of workmanship will be expected. This is a test of your carpentry skills and lock-fitting jigs will not be allowed. Marks will be awarded according to the level of skill demonstrated. N.B. The relevant Personal Protective Equipment must be worn.

4. CUT A STEPPED (LEVER) KEY

TIME ALLOWED: ONE HOUR

This is a test of bench skills i.e. using hand tools, not machines. Key and lever reading type gauges (e.g depth keys or step gauges) are not allowed although vernier calipers can be used.

You will be required to make a key to a detainer lock on the bench. Basic facilities are available, such as vices and blanks but you are to provide the hand tools required to complete the task.

Your key must be of sufficient standard to operate the lock using your usual method of finishing. The lock must work with the original key on completion. Your step cuts and spacing must be a faithful reproduction of the manufacturers' original with particular regard to stepped heights, spacing, finish and radius.

GENERAL GUIDANCE

- You are to provide all tools and ancillary equipment as if you were attending a customer's address.
- Any mains electrical equipment you intend to use on MLA premises must be "PAT" tested.
- No borrowing of tools will be allowed in the examination centre.
- Any candidate uncertain about the above conditions should ask for clarification.
- Any candidate not providing the tools will be disqualified.
- The MLA reserves the right to terminate your examination at any stage, if unsafe or unfair practice is discovered.
- Eye protection must be worn (failure to do so can result in failure)

Introducing the MLA's Encyclopaedia of BS Mortice Locks & More

*The ideal reference point
for mortice locks*

- Life-size pictures
- Keyhole identification
- Lock standards information

This Encyclopaedia Of BS Mortice Locks & More is intended to be for members and by members where possible. (Subject to getting enough take up then supply will be restricted to members)

The intention of the publication is to provide an on-going “living” lock ID and info resource. Something that will expand as more and more locks are included. For this reason the design is a loose leaf binder with laminated pages, thereby enabling you to take the appropriate page only to where you need it, and not having to worry if it's raining!

The majority of locks we have included are 64mm sashlocks, these will generally give all the information required for opening the sashlock and deadlock whether 64mm or 80mm.

We are also looking at all times to improve and build on this publication and as such would welcome your input on any info you have to add on certain locks, or if you have locks that we could feature. It has been designed to allow further pages to be added without altering page numbers.

Notes on progression of membership

Welcome to the General Locksmithing Course. This course provides a starting point for newcomers and beginners to the industry, who will be looking to further their membership by training and examination and become members of the Masters Locksmiths Association.

Currently you are either applying for membership, or are student members of the British Locksmiths Institute, which is the training sector of the Master Locksmiths Association. If you have a registration number beginning with the letter T then you are in the process of membership which may take up to three months to allow for the necessary checks to be completed. If you have a registration starting with the number 1, then you have completed the application process and are now student members of the British Locksmiths Institute.

The entry exam is a 45 minute written paper (short essay style, multi choice questions) which may be taken, by prior arrangement, either here or at a regional meeting. We try to encourage our members to attempt this exam within the first twelve months, but you are able to attempt it earlier if you wish to do so. Once this exam is passed your membership moves from student level to advanced student level.

The BLI exam is a four part examination, three parts are practical and one part is written, elements include: open a BS Lever Mortice Lock, fit a Euro Mortice Lock and cut a Stepped (lever) Key. All four parts of this examination must be passed before the Qualified Master Locksmiths Certificate is gained, although you do not have to re-sit the whole exam if you fail any element, you may just retake that section, it should be noted that this examination may only be taken at Daventry HQ.

Information on the exams and all further training is available in the lecture room and the office.

The Master Locksmiths Association provides on-going training for its members including courses on Opening Techniques, Safes and Electrical Access. It also regularly hosts one day information seminars, please read Keyways, our in house magazine for members or visit our website www.locksmiths.co.uk for all up to date information.

Hopefully this may have answered some of your queries but please do feel free to visit the office if we can assist you further. Enjoy your course.

Information on the exams and all further training is available from Head Office. Please let us know if you require any additional information

The Master Locksmiths Association provides on-going training for its members including technical courses in areas such as Opening Techniques, Safes, Electrical Access and Auto, and also regularly hosts one day information seminars. These courses are regularly promoted in our members only journal Keyways, or on our website www.locksmiths.co.uk. It's worth noting that as members you will have access to the MLA's forum, the ideal venue for asking questions, buying/selling items and generally finding out the latest trends in the industry.

Hopefully this may have answered some of your queries but please do feel free to visit the office if we can assist you further. Enjoy your course and we look forward to you progressing through the various tiers of membership with us in the future.
