Protect yourself from rogue locksmiths before an

Being locked out is stressful. It's also when rogue locksmiths are most likely to take advantage — leaving people facing inflated prices, unnecessary damage, or no way to complain.

LOCKED OUT. NOT CAUGHT OUT.

A common scam: the bait & switch

Some rogue locksmiths advertise a very low call-out fee — often £49, £59 or £69 — then raise the price once they arrive, leaving customers feeling pressured to pay.

This can also involve:

- Unnecessary drilling or damage
- Unclear pricing

Little or no accountability
